GLOSSARY

SCOUT GLOSSARY

API = Application Programming Interface

APIs are mechanisms that enable two software components to communicate with each other using a set of definitions and protocols.

API calls

An electronic communication method to request specific services or data from another software system.

Coverages

These are the actual insurance benefits available to the customer (Note: sample coverages and covered reasons are examples only and may vary by state. The policy contains terms, conditions, and exclusions. Please refer to the policy for more information. Not all plans or coverages are available in every state).

Coverages included or available with this plan are:

AD&D = Accidental Death & Dismemberment (Optional) pays for loss of eyesight or hearing, loss of limbs and death resulting from an accident while traveling.

BAGD = Baggage Delay can reimburse the purchase of clothing, toiletries, and other essential items if the traveler's luggage is delayed for at least 24 hours.

BAGL = Baggage and Personal Effects covers lost, stolen, or damaged luggage and personal effects.

CFAR = Cancel For Any Reason (Optional) covers cancellation of a covered trip for any reason not otherwise covered by the policy, up to 75% (50% in Florida) of nonrefundable trip costs. Conditions apply:

- Must be purchased within 15 days of initial trip deposit and more than 10 days prior to departure.
- The full trip cost must be insured.
- The trip must be canceled before 48 hours of scheduled departure.
- May not be purchased as a standalone.
- Not available to NY residents.
- CFAR is available for a maximum trip cost per party of $10,000.

EVAC = Emergency Evacuation & Repatriation of Remains can pay for the cost to transport the traveler to the nearest adequate medical facility or pay for the cost for the transportation of a traveler to the nearest adequate medical facility, or home, in the event of a medical emergency during their covered trip.

Examples: The traveler is seriously injured in an auto accident in a foreign country. Local emergency services will first stabilize the injured person, and likely transport them to a hospital. Travel Medical Expense coverage can reimburse medical expenses incurred in this situation.

Once the traveler is stabilized, the Robin Assist emergency assistance team will determine if she needs to be transported to a different or more suitable facility, or even, if it's medically indicated, for her to be transported home for further treatment. Emergency Evacuation coverage will make all arrangements and pay those costs up front. A medical transport to the US from overseas can be extremely expensive, so this is an important benefit to have when traveling internationally.

Pet Travel Package (Optional)

2 Benefit(s) included:

- Pet Medical provides $2,000 of coverage for necessary veterinarian expenses if the traveler's pet becomes sick or injured while traveling with them. $100 deductible applies.
- Pet Return provides $500 of coverage if the customer is traveling with a pet, can't continue the trip due to the traveler's sickness or injury, and the pet needs to return home.

Not available to FL residents. Pet Travel Package is provided per traveling party.

RVD = Rental Vehicle Damage (Optional) provides primary coverage for one rented vehicle per traveling party for theft or damage due to collision, vandalism, windstorm, fire, hail or flood, or any cause beyond the traveler's control while the vehicle is in their possession. $100 deductible applies. Rental Vehicle Damage is provided per traveling party.

Single Occupancy coverage can pay the additional rates incurred as a single traveler (also known as Single Supplement) in the event a traveling companion cancels their trip for a covered reason, but the primary traveler does not cancel.

Example: Travelers A and B are going on a cruise together. Traveler A falls and breaks her ankle, and thus cannot go on the trip. Trip Cancellation can help pay for pre-paid, non-refundable costs. However, Traveler B decides to go on the cruise anyway and is charged an increased rate by the cruise line as a single traveler. Single Occupancy would reimburse the cost of that increased cruise fare.

TCAN = Trip Cancellation provides coverage for up to 100% of the pre-paid, non-refundable trip cost if the trip is canceled for a covered reason, such as: sickness, injury or death; inclement weather; strikes; mechanical breakdown of a common carrier, involuntary layoff, and many other reasons.

TDEL = Trip Delay reimburses the costs of additional expenses such as meals, local transportation, and accommodations when the trip is unexpectedly delayed at least 6 hours for covered reasons. Covered reasons can include carrier-caused delays, strikes, civil disorder.

TINT = Trip Interruption covers up to 125% of the pre-paid and non-refundable trip cost if a portion of a trip is missed, or if the traveler must return home early due to unforeseen circumstances, including: sickness, injury, or death; natural disasters; strikes; terrorist events, and many other reasons.

Example: If the traveler or a traveling companion becomes sick with COVID-19 while traveling, Trip Interruption can cover expenses like additional flight costs if they aren't cleared to travel home on the original return date.

TMED = Travel Medical Expense reimburses the costs to treat a sickness or injury while on the covered trip.

Includes:

- Emergency Dental expenses, up to $750
- Hospital Room & Board, up to $50/day

Customer Library

A collection of policies and other important documents.

Disclosures

Disclosures are legal statements. As insurance is a regulated product, there are certain disclosures that must be made available to the customer at the time of purchase. Typically, the customer can access the disclosures via a hyperlink.

First Notice of Loss (FNOL)

The initial report of a claim by a customer. battleface has an online claim reporting system to make claim reporting quick and easy.

Insurance Carrier

The company that actually pays the claims. All insurance carriers have a rating of financial stability from AM Best.

Insurance Premium

The cost for the insurance portion of the plan.

MGA = Managing General Agent

A specialized type of insurance agent/broker that, unlike traditional agents/brokers, is vested with underwriting authority from an insurer. MGA responsibilities may include tasks typically carried out by insurers such as binding coverage, underwriting, settling claims, and negotiating contracts.

MoR = Merchant of Record

This is the company that sells the travel protection plan to the final customer, and the legal entity those customers pay when making a purchase. The MoR takes on the financial responsibility and liability of payments, billing, sales, taxes, refunds, and chargebacks, and more.

Opt in

Opt in means the customer must affirmatively select to purchase the product. This is the only way that travel protection may be sold. The customer can be required to accept or decline the offer.

Opt out

This is a sales method which requires the customer to de-select the travel protection or optional coverage. It is prohibited for the sale of travel protection products. For example, an entity selling a travel product such as hotel rooms or airfare may not pre-select travel protection as part of the sale.

Partner

The entity, such as affiliates, partners, brokers, aggregators (anyone that sells battleface)

Plan

Typically refers to the entire package that the customer purchases – travel insurance + assistance services.

Plan Cost

The total cost of the travel protection plan, including insurance premium and assistance.

Policy

The document containing all of the specifics regarding the insurance coverages, including benefits, conditions and exclusions.

Pre-Existing Medical Conditions

These are sicknesses or injuries of a traveler, family member, traveling companion, business partner, pet, or service animal that first occurred within a defined time period (180 days for the Scout plan) prior to the purchase of a plan. Most travel insurance plans exclude that and don't cover any loss or claim that results from a pre-existing medical condition.

The Scout plan offers the ability for customers to “waive” that exclusion – they must purchase the plan within seven (7) days of initial trip deposit and cover the entire trip cost.

This can be a very complicated subject, so make sure you and your customers understand the exclusion and how to get coverage for pre-existing medical conditions.

Primary Medical

This means that the travel protection plan will pay first for any covered medical expenses incurred while on the trip. The customer doesn't need to file a claim with their primary medical insurance first.

Robin Assist

battleface's dedicated team of professionals who provide customer service, claims, and travel assistance services to end travelers.

Secondary Medical

This means that the travel protection plan will pay after any other insurance (such as group health insurance) for any covered medical expenses incurred while on the trip. The customer would need to file a claim with their primary medical insurance first, then submit a claim for anything not covered by the primary insurance.

Sub-affiliate/sub-partner

These entities have agreements with battleface's partners to sell battleface products in the partner's distribution channel. The sub affiliate may be individuals or entities. Compensation and license matters are the responsibility of the partner.

Terms & Conditions

General legal terms and rules pertaining to the use of the battleface website, such as intellectual property, restrictions on use, and other notices. There is a Terms & Conditions link on the battleface home page.

Alternatively, "terms and conditions" may be used in some contexts, to mean the terms of the actual insurance policy or travel protection plan. battleface uses "terms and conditions" in the purchase disclaimer, which states "Checking here constitutes my electronic signature. I confirm that I have read, understand, and agree to the policy terms and conditions, and important notices and disclosures, which includes fraud warnings, privacy notice, and consent to electronic signature and delivery."

Travel retailer

An entity such as an OTA or travel supplier, that makes, arranges, or offers travel services and may "offer and disseminate" travel insurance as a service to its customers on behalf of and under the direction of a limited lines travel insurance producer. A travel retailer is not an insurance agent and may not answer technical questions about the benefits, exclusions, and conditions of the offered plans. A travel retailer also may not evaluate the adequacy of a customer's existing coverage.
